Give girls in India a chance for a self-determined future through education.

The PATRIZIA Foundation is committed to a better future and empowers children in over 20 projects worldwide to lead self-determined lives through quality education, health care and welfare. The Hearts4Change campaign supports our hearts projects on the way to fulfill our vision of reaching one million children by 2030.

In rural Muniguda in eastern India, 25% of the population can neither read nor write. Girls are married off early and poverty is omnipresent. With quality education at PATRIZIA School Muniguda, the cycle can be broken for a better future ...

by expanding the school to accommodate up to 1,000 students, we combat illiteracy in the region.

by introducing a higher grade level, we provide an alternative to early marriage for girls.

by constructing science labs and a computer room, we contribute to the improvement of the educational experience.

through quality education, we facilitate successful entry into the job market.

“ In some regions of the world, often in the poorest areas, girls don't have access to education. The PATRIZIA School Muniguda protects the educational interests of Indian girls and provides them with the opportunity for a self-determined life. ”
