Sponsorship for runners in Rwanda

Support the Digital Classroom at a school in Rwanda!

By taking part at the Remote Run Reloaded you support the Digital Classroom project at the PATRIZIA Vocational Training Center Ntarama, Rwanda. In order to provide sustainable access to education even in times of crisis, the PATRIZIA Foundation launched the Digital Classroom project. With the help of the Corona Fund Education Healthcare the students in Ntarama built their very own computer lab themselves.

The next step is to equip this ICT Lab with furniture and hardware. What is needed are 40 laptops, projectors, printers, tables, and chairs. With the proceeds from the first #patriziarun, the school is already able to finance parts of this.

The funds from the second #patriziarun will therefore also benefit the digitalization project at the school, to ensure the long-term power supply and to finance further digital equipment as well as planned measures such as training jobs for solar system technicians.

In the future, both the students and the teachers will benefit from the ICT Lab, as they will be able to prepare their lessons with the help of online-based teaching materials and videos. In addition, networking with schools in other departments and exchanges on vocational and technical topics will be made possible.

A PATRIZIA volunteering activity

The remote run is being organized for the second time by PATRIZIA employee Christina Lutz as part of a volunteer campaign. As an enthusiastic runner, she and the PATRIZIA Foundation succeeded in successfully running the first #patriziarun at the end of 2020 and motivating many people to participate. More than 650 runners took part in the first event, 237 of them from Rwanda, for whom running sponsorships were taken over.

Enthusiastic about the success story of the first virtual charity run, Christina would like to motivate even more runners to take part in the second #patriziarun to further advance the Digital Classroom Project in Rwanda by collecting entry fees and donations.
